“ I used to work with Curt at Steiner and then we became friends. We kept in contact and stayed friends even when I left Steiner. My husband and I would stop over at his house and visit periodically. Sometimes I would just stop by to chat and catch up. We would watch videos of Arizona and all the cool places he had been. When my husband and I decided to visit Arizona, Curt was the first person I got advice on where to go and what to check out. His love for the beautiful Arizona lands was a passion for him. I will remember our conversations about family, friends, and many things. Curt truly had an old pure soul and that is one of the many things I loved about him. Last time we spoke was in April and I wish that wasn't the last. Rest in peace Curt, you are missed. So sorry for your loss, Curt was a true friend and person. Much love and prayers, Lana (& Solomon) Barker.
