“ I only met Joey a few times but he was just a sweetheart of a kid. My husband and I were out visiting Joey’s dad one afternoon and we kinda overstayed our time and the sun started to go down and out came the zillions of mosquitoes! The two older boys came out and joined us in our van while we were sitting there having a barley pop, away from the bugs, when here came Joey running to the van I opened the door to Joey saying and I’m the “good” boy. He was the only one that dad wasn’t upset with that day! He was always known to us as the good boy after that. He was a good caring boy.
