“ Thursday, I lost my best friend and companion of 20 years. I have sat here trying to write this, but my heart is so broken I don't know how, what, or why. I am so lost. Every minute becomes more difficult. I just sit here alone, shaking, crying.

I fought so hard in your corner, to help you overcome addiction. Last year we won the addiction to Opioids, and I was so proud of you. Recently, we started to work on the alcohol addiction. It was work in progress. I pushed you so hard because I wanted you to be free and live your life again.

At 53, you are too young to be gone. I wanted the best for you, for us. I will always cherish and love you, Donald Jay Pattison. I will never forget the good times.

I LOVE YOU DONALD! I MISS YOU MORE THAN WORDS CAN EXPRESS. HOW AM I GOING TO LIVE ON WITHOUT YOU, BECAUSE I DON'T WANT TO? HOW WILL I EVER FIND PEACE? YOU WERE MY ROCK, MY SHOULDER TO CRY ON. WHAT DO I DO WITHOUT YOU? I SPENT DAMN NEAR HALF OF MY LIFE WITH YOU.

Donald, we have been through thick and thin, WE had an immense amount of great times together, we have loved one another, and we have loved our beloved dogs. Our Great Dane Sydney is pacing the house with me, and I believe she knows. Our Husky is lost like me, but I am doing what I can, She loves Donald's brother Robert and I know that will help her. Dogs and myself will need support. I pace the house and Sydney will pace with me, right by my side.

I love you "Honey"!
