“ I remember a precious time when my wife, Sharon, & I were visiting her mom & dad when she was a child. I happened to pass her room & found her & her sister playing. Katie was pounding the table with a Bible & speaking in tongues & giggling. I had to chuckle to myself because when I asked her what she was doing she said, "we're playing church and I'm Pastor Ross." Later when she was a teenager in CCA's church school, my wife found it difficult to give her demerits for disruptions in the classroom because they were so funny at times & no matter how many demerits you gave her she always took them with that big cherub-like smile of hers & said, "Okeedokee." What a bright spot she was in our lives. We will miss her.

“ I remember one time in school Katie sprayed perfume all over the learning center and it smelled so strong for the longest time. When I talked to my mom about the incident she said it was "Heavenly Scent" perfume. Since it was a Christian school Katie thought the perfume was ok to spray like that. She was always playing jokes on people. I'm so sorry that she struggled so much in life, but she never lost her smile. :)

“ Aunt Katie, I will really miss you. You could always make me laugh. You were with me in good times and dark times. I know you are in a better place where you do not have to suffer anymore. I just wish you couldn't of died so, you got to experience life in a better way. I will never forget you and will always keep you in my heart.
Love always and forever,
Your niece Tiffany L. Johnson
