“ I've known Nancy for less than a year. In that short time, I've been amazed with her strength and courage. She always had a smile and kind word to say. Many times I would ask her how she was feeling and she would always say "just fine, how are you"? She was more interested in my day than her own failing health. Countless times, I walked away holding back tears, and totally blown away with her genuine concern for me. She was a delight to have at our complex. I will miss her.
