“ I meet Becky at church an attended a class with her weekly, she had a smile that could light a room an so much to say about her two boys an how much they meant to her, she was looking forward to moving on an leaving the past behind her I'm so sorry she didn't get a chance to show the world what a courageous person she was an the difference she was going to make. I will miss your smile and kind words I love you Becky an will talk to you often until we meet again my friend.

“ I am going to miss you terribly. I remember the good times that we had at work. I really was glad that I was there for you whenever you needed someone to listen to your problems and gave you a shoulder to cry on. I will always remember your smiling face and your sweet disposition. Rebecca, you were such a good friend to me and I appreciated you looking out for me. My prayers are with you and your family, especially your Mom and the boys. May God welcome you into his loving arms.

“ I have sooo many fond memories of "Becky" at Harlem Jr. / Sr. high...from rec nights to the 7th grade transition program and the trailers at the jr. high...Missed these last few years of Becky's life and was devastated to hear about her untimly death, I thought I had more time to rekindle...I recently saw her at school and church and was planning to re-establish our friendship. Well she knows now how I have been thinking of her....R.I.P. BECK gonna miss you dearly!...

You & your family are in my thoughts & prayers, I'm here if you need someone to lean on & I know what its like to have gone down this road. But Satan didn't win this battle God did! Becky has totally been set free & at peace. Love you all ! Now she can sit at the banquet table with my daughter and Jesus . I didn't realize that they were the same age & only 4 days apart.
