Such a wonderful, happy life! I remember so many of those moments growing up. The camping, the motorcycle, Uncle Curt studying for his degrees, and playing pool while listening to Kenny Rogers. The Ace of Diamonds, Friday night fish fries, swimming in the back yard pool, the list goes on and on. Uncle Curt even purchased the first computer I had ever seen! Even stronger than my visual memory is my memory of his laughter, and boy did he ever like to laugh and joke. I can still hear his laughter booming as he and my dad spent time together. Two brothers now reunited.

It has been said that the most important and significant measures of a man's life are not the date of birth, nor the date of death, but the dash of life that exists in between. Thank you Uncle Curt for sharing a portion of those days with me.

*Love always,
Carolyn*

“ I am lucky enough to know Curt and call him a friend. Not only was Curt an amazing father but he was an amazing husband and grandfather. I meet Curt for the first time in 2005 in Texas and we instantly bonded over politics and love of our Country. Curt was the kind of guy that would show up to your door w his tool box to help you put together a dresser, or help you move and he would smile and laugh the entire time. Over the last 10 years I've had dinner with Curt and his wife Barb and Chris and all of his grandkids every time he came to town. What a legacy he leaves behind! I will miss the weekly political emails, the text messages asking me how I am doing and the unforgettable smile as he tackled life with pleasure. No matter what Curt was doing he did it with grace and did it with a smile and love for his friends and family. My heart aches knowing that he is no longer here on earth but I find comfort knowing that he is at rest. He will be watching over his family with that smile and guiding them with the wisdom he left behind. On a funny note Curt told me so many times it was my duty to get his son Chris ready to vote in the 2016 election and I promise Curt like it or not.... Chris it's happening buddy! Though Curt and I had 30 years between us in age, I always looked forward to being around him. This world has lost a wonderful man yet heaven has gained one. Chris and Barb and family if I can do anything please reach out to me.

God Bless
